A Farce Comedy

Here is a choice morsel for the depositors of the long defunct State Bank and Trust company, as taken from the Carson News of Wednesday's issue:

A ten cent on the dollar dividend is to be paid by Receiver Wildes of the State Bank. This is two and a half cents in excess of the money received by the settlement of yesterday and is to certain extent discounting the future. Mr. Wildes feels that the excess money will undoubtedly come into the receiver in a reasonable time and he is willing therefore to chance it, believing that the distribution of the money will be very welcome to the depositors.

He feels assured that having removed by compromise one of his greatest expenses, that future dividends will come more rapidly than heretofore, and he will have more time to devote to other important matters which have been unavoidably neglected.

It will be noted that two and one-half cents of the proposed dividend is expected to come from the funds received other than through the settlement of the suit against the directors of the bank. Somewhere around four years ago, two five per cent dividends were paid the unfortunate depositors of the State bank. Since that date all funds collected by the depositor have been used in payment of his princely salary and his expenses.

The State bank fumble today is one of the greatest farces to be found in this state. It appears to be a case of live and let live, as far as the court and the receiver is concerned, and the businesslike manner, which is entirely lacking, would make it appear that a bunch of school children are at the head of the proposition.

About two years ago Wildes was ordered by the court to prepare a statement of the bank's condition and send a copy of the statement to the depositors. This statement was printed at a cost of several thousand dollars and was then carefully packed in boxes and deposited in some safe but obscure hiding place in Carson. Since that date the statement has not seen the light of day, and as a consequence the depositors are in ignorance as to the real conditions of the bank.

The manner in which the receivership of the State Bank and Trust company has been handled is to be deplored. The conditions appear absolutely rotten, for such is the opinion gained when the statements printed are hidden from public observation. Had Judge Langan the interests of the depositors at heart, it would appear that he would demand a proper accounting from the receiver. The depositors are entitled to know the true conditions of the State Bank and Trust company, and it is the duty of Judge Langan to appoint a suitable person to carry out the orders of the court.

Receiver Wildes of the State Bank and Trust company, through a compromise, secured $75,000 from the directors of the bank. That will pay his salary and traveling expenses for several years, and it is doubtful if the depositors will receive their just returns.

SCHOOL MONIES ARE APPROPRIATED BY OFFICIALS

NYE COUNTY RECEIVES NEARLY $9000 FROM STATE SCHOOL FUND

State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. E. Bray has filed with the state controller at Carson his certificate showing the apportionment of state school moneys for the second semi-annual term of the year 1912. It is a distribution of school moneys totalling $114,854.06 among the 16 counties of the state. It is based on a multiple of $122.41971 for each teacher, allowing one teacher for each 30 census children in each district, and a multiple of $2.65224 for each census child in the district. Under this apportionment a school of a given number of children will receive the same amount from the school moneys in every county in the state.

The statement shows that there are 12,652 census children in the state, the largest number, 3019, being in Washoe, and the next largest 1264, being in Elko. There are 695 teachers in the state with Washoe county leading with 119 and 1-6.

Washoe county gets $23,429.42 from the apportionment and Elko $13,269.98. Nye county is allotted $8,926.88.

The details of the apportionment are as follows:

Churchill, $5,344.48; Clark, $5,524.82; Douglas, $2,974.18; Elko, $13,269.98; Esmeralda, $7,448.12; Eureka, $3,273.18; Humboldt, $8,114.80; Lander, $3,154.38; Lincoln, $5,002.28; Lyon, $5,976.74; Mineral, $1,729.36; Nye, $8,926.88; Ormsby, $4,233.12; Storey, $3,434.94; Washoe, $23,429.42; White Pine, $9,853.78.

Aside from this an emergency school fund apportionment of $3,000 is first made.
